

jetBook® COLOR

Using the latest technology and the world's first Triton Color E Ink screen the jetBook Color was originally focused on the education market for students to keep track of their schedules, check homework, and eventually replace all paper textbooks. With the success experienced in Eastern Europe, we've decided to release the jetBook Color worldwide so everyone can enjoy an eReading device with tons of functionality and a non-backlit display that's safe on the eyes. Virtually unlimited format support and endless battery life make the jetBook Color the best device for school work, business documents, leisure reading and everything in between.

NEW! Android applications

Lingvosoft® is happy to introduce a whole new line of talking dictionary software for Android operated mobile devices. The new apps do not require any internet connection so you can start using the software right after you download and register the product.

The new dictionaries boast a multilingual interface and feature advanced voice output for over 1,000,000 words depending on the language.

The main features include:

- Comprehensive and fully updated bilingual, bidirectional vocabulary database
- Translations complete with parts of speech, gender, comments, transcriptions, and examples
- Advanced TTS (text-to-speech) functionality
- Real human voice output available for the most popular languages
- English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Polish and Russian display language options
- Quick paste and translate (translates a selected word in other applications with just one click)
- Input Line search finds any word matching the sequence of symbols you enter
- History function to view and select previously entered words
- Integrated support for C-Pen® Bluetooth scanner for text input
